Jake McIntyre Dead.

Odessa Ledger.

The many friends of J. F. McIntyre were shocked Monday when a telegram came from Baxter Springs, Kas., to the Odd Fellow Lodge here stating that he had been found dead at that place Monday morning.

Mr. McIntyre had gone there from Kansas City to take charge of a lumber yard Friday of last week and was to all appearances in good health. Sunday he complained of a severe headache, but retired as usual, that night leaving a call for 6 o'clock. When the hotel attendants went to wake him Monday morning his room was found to be vacant, and nothing more was seen of him until his body was found about a mile from town.

An autopsy showed that his death was caused by an abscess on the brain. It is supposed that his head was hurting so much that he got up and went out in the air to see if that would relieve it and probably in a semi-conscious condition wandered to where he was found. The body was lying by and partly in a small pond, and it is thought that seeing the water he attempted to bathe his head when death struck him, as he was dead before he touched the water.

Mr. McIntyre was about 48 years old and was for many years a citizen of Odessa, was postmaster here for four years under Cleveland's second administration, was a member of Odessa Lodge, No. 448, I. O. O. F. He moved to Kansas City several years ago, and had been living there until he went to Baxter Springs. He leaves a wife who was formerly Miss Sallie Proctor of this city, and three children.

The remains were brought to Odessa Wednesday and laid to rest in Odessa Cemetery under the auspices of Odessa Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Rest is the great restorer. We tire our muscles by exercise and then rest to restore them; yet a great many of us do not stop to think how little rest we give to our stomachs. As a usual thing no part of our bodies is so generally over-worked as our digestive organs. A tired and over-worked stomach will give signs of distress to which we pay no heed until at last dyspepsia takes hold. Indigestion is just a warning, and if we heed the warning we can easily avoid further consequences. KODOL is a most thorough stomach relief. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach the needed rest and greatly assists in restoring it to its normal activity and usefulness. KODOL is sold on a guarantee relief plan. It is sold here by Leroy Farmer.

Dead.

Odessa Ledger.

Died at his home near Odessa on the evening of Feb. 26th Alfreed Coe, eldest son of the late J. L. and S. E. Green, aged 58 years 3 months and 3 days, a wife, four sons, two daughters, two brothers; Judge Henry Green of this county and Wm. S. Green of Pueblo, Colorado, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Cockran of La Grande, Oregon, survive him. His funeral was held at McKendree chapel, the services were conducted by Revs. Mr. McCain and N. M. Dowdy.

He was for many years identified with the Cumberland Presbyterian church, one of its official members deeply concerned for all the interests of the church, never absent from its services when it was possible to attend. In church and community as citizen, neighbor, friend, how greatly he will be missed.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure—and has been for 20 years. The National law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package. For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Refuse to accept any other. Sold by Dr. Silverstone's drug store.

Salmon Sentenced.

In the Circuit Court of Benton County Monday Harvey W. Salmon was found guilty of Grand larceny in receiving money when the Salmon Bank was in failing condition and was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of three years.

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured I am furnishing patients through druggists, an free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring about substantial relief. Nothing certainly is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. Both article must possess true merit, else the test is condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil of Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into velvety cream like Petroleum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by a means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc., surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but

Eccentricities of the Missouri River

The American Magazine has discovered a young Illinois editor—George Fitch. In the April number he describes the habits and eccentricities of the Missouri River.

"There are rivers of all lengths and sizes and of all degrees of wetness," says Mr. Fitch. "There are rivers with all sorts of peculiarities and with widely varying claims to fame. But there is only one river with a personality, habits, dissipation, a sense of humor and a woman's caprice, a river that goes traveling sideways—that interferes in politics, rearranges geography and dapples in real estate; a river that plays hide and seek with you to-day and to-morrow follows you around like a pet dog with a dynamite cracker tied to his tail. That river is the Missouri."

Among the stories Mr. Fitch tells is the following:

"This thing happened in Kansas City not many years ago. A party of men owned a strip of land along the Missouri river bank. It was not handsome land but it was valuable for factory purposes. They were offered portly prices for it, but held on.

"One day they noticed that the strip was getting emaciated. They held a hurried diagnosis with a surveyor's tape and found that half of it had been wasted away. The next year half of the remainder had gone.

"The men wanted to sell then, but the market seemed remarkably sluggish. The next year the river ate so voraciously that only a tiny strip about as wide as a piece baby ribbon was left. The men were much depressed.

"Suddenly the land began to increase. The Missouri had chosen the late manufacturing site for a place to deposit a fine 100 acre farm upon which it had foreclosed up the river. Inside of six months that strip of land contained 200 acres. The men were jubilant, but still they would not sell. They wanted another 100 acres, they said. They strolled along the bank each day and urged the river, in proprietary tones, to build faster. "Then the river changed its mind once more and not only wiped out the extra 100 acres but the original 100 acres, every foot of it. The next year it built up 300 acres in the same spot, but they all belonged to the man who owned the ground behind the original spot. They have stayed there ever since—that is, up to last reports. For high financing and property juggling the Missouri makes a crooked lawyer look like a child. I hate to think what it would do for a man if it had a personal friendship for him."

Roscoe Groves went to Kansas City Monday morning for a few days stay. From there he will go to Canyon City, Texas, where his brother, E. G. Groves is located.
